Independent Auditor's Report

The Board of Directors of GiveDirectly, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of GiveDirectly, Inc. ("GiveDirectly"), which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of GiveDirectly as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of GiveDirectly and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about GiveDirectly's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of GiveDirectly's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about GiveDirectly's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

ORGANIZATION

GiveDirectly, Inc. ("GiveDirectly") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated on September 1, 2009, in the State of Massachusetts. GiveDirectly's mission is to reduce poverty by providing financial assistance directly to those in need. GiveDirectly offers a service that enables others to send cash transfers directly to people in need. GiveDirectly operates in the United States of America ("U.S."), Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, Liberia, Malawi, Mozambique, the Democratic Republic of the Congo ("DRC"), Nigeria, Bangladesh, Morocco, and the United Kingdom ("UK").

With a focus on efficiency and using the latest available technology, GiveDirectly identifies households and informs them that they are eligible for a transfer, helps them register for a digital payments system, sends funds, and follows up with recipients post-transfer. Transfer sizes vary by project. GiveDirectly exclusively focuses on unconditional cash transfers; therefore, recipients are free to spend on what they need without restriction. Many of GiveDirectly's transfers are made as part of research projects designed to better understand how to optimize the use of cash transfers and answer questions posed by the policy world. Answering these questions helps facilitate greater adoption of cash transfers as a policy tool.

GiveDirectly receives donations from private individuals, foundations and governments. Donations are distributed to recipient households and include the cost of enrolling and following up with households, or may be designated for a more specific use. Costs of administration are funded through indirect allocations to programs funded by individuals, foundations, and governments. Fundraising activities are funded by unrestricted donations from individual donors or specifically earmarked donations. GiveDirectly receives federal grants as part of its work abroad and in the United States.

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

GiveDirectly prepares its financial statements on the accrual basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

GiveDirectly considers all highly liquid financial instruments with maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

GiveDirectly uses the allowance method to record potentially uncollectible receivables. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at their net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of their estimated future cash flows if significant. The discounts on those amounts are computed using risk-adjusted interest rates appropriate for the expected term of the promise to give. Amortization of the discount is included in grants and contributions in the accompanying statements of activities.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT AND RELATED DEPRECIATION AND AMORTIZATION

Acquisitions of furniture and equipment and eligible internal-use software and website development with an estimated useful life greater than a year and a cost greater than $1,000 are capitalized at cost. Furniture, equipment, internal-use software and website development are being depreciated using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of three to five years. Costs incurred in the development of internal-use software are expensed during the preliminary and post-implementation operation stages, including data conversion, training and maintenance costs. Costs incurred during the application development stage of software development are capitalized. Upon the retirement or disposal of assets, the cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the accounts and the resulting gain or loss is included in revenue or expenses, as appropriate.

INVESTMENTS

GiveDirectly invests in a professionally managed portfolio. Investments are reported at fair value. Investments in marketable equity securities, fixed income securities and mutual funds are stated at quoted market values. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset, or paid to transfer a liability through an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Purchases and sales are reflected on a trade date basis. Interest, dividends and realized gains or losses are recorded when earned. Changes in the fair value of the portfolio are recorded as unrealized gains or losses. Donated investments are recorded as contributions based on their fair value at the date of donation. Total donated investments for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, were $14,958,322 and $2,639,448, respectively. The investment objective for marketable equity securities, fixed income securities and mutual funds is to preserve capital while generating a modest return to support GiveDirectly's activities.

GiveDirectly's investment in Segovia Technology was exchanged for holdings in Taptap Send ("TTS"). The shares of privately held stock are considered to be other investments, as such funds are not traded in an established active market with published values. The shares of privately held stock are equity investments without readily determinable fair value and are not qualified to account for under the equity method. GiveDirectly selects to account for these investments in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 321, Investments – Equity Securities, the alternative measurement method, according to which investments are accounted for at cost minus impairment, if any, plus or minus changes resulting from observable price changes in orderly transactions for the identical or a similar investment of the same issuer.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

In accordance with the accounting standards for fair value measurement for those assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis, GiveDirectly has categorized its applicable financial instruments into a required fair value hierarchy. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3).

If the inputs used to measure the financial instruments fall within different levels of the hierarchy, the categorization is based on the lowest-level input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the instrument.

Applicable financial assets and liabilities are categorized on the basis of inputs to the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1 - Financial assets and liabilities whose values are based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in an active market that GiveDirectly has the ability to access.

Level 2 - Financial assets and liabilities whose values are based on quoted prices in markets that are not active or model inputs that are observable, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 - Financial assets and liabilities whose values are based on prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement. These inputs reflect management's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in pricing the asset or liability.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, only GiveDirectly's investments, as described in Note 5 of these financial statements, were measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

CRYPTO ASSETS HELD

The crypto assets held by GiveDirectly are accounted for as intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, and are initially measured at fair value at the date of donation. Crypto assets accounted for as intangible assets are subject to impairment losses if the fair value of crypto assets decreases below the carrying value at any time during the period. The fair value is measured using the quoted price of the crypto asset at the time its fair value is being measured. Impairment expense is reflected in management and general expenses in the accompanying statement of activities. Impairment losses cannot be recovered for any subsequent increase in fair value until the sale or disposal of the asset.

PREPAID EXPENSES AND OTHER ASSETS

Prepaid expenses and other assets primarily consist of funds disbursed to implementation partners and foreign wallets before expenses are incurred. Prepaid expenses are liquidated and recorded as expenses upon eligibility approval of the intended recipients.

CLASSIFICATION OF NET ASSETS

The net assets of GiveDirectly are reported as follows:

- Net assets without donor restrictions represent the portion of expendable funds that are available for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of GiveDirectly at the discretion of GiveDirectly's management and the Board of Directors (the "Board").

- Net assets with donor restrictions represent funds that are specifically restricted by donors for use in various programs and/or for specific periods of time. These donor restrictions can be temporary in nature in that they will be met by actions of GiveDirectly or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, whereby the donor has stipulated that the funds be maintained in perpetuity. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, GiveDirectly had no net assets with donor restrictions that are required to be maintained in perpetuity.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Unconditional contributions revenue is recognized in the period in which the commitment is made. Contributions revenue is considered to be revenue and support without donor restrictions and available for general operations unless specifically restricted by the donor. GiveDirectly reports contributions revenue as revenue and support with donor restrictions if the contributions received have donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated funds. When a donor restriction expires – that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished – net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Contributions revenue that is restricted by the donor is reported as net assets without donor restrictions if the restrictions expire in the same reporting period in which the contributions are recognized. Unconditional contributions received in the form of stock donations are recorded at fair value at the date of the unconditional contributions and then immediately converted to cash. Net assets for these contributions are based upon the presence or absence of donor imposed restrictions. Conditional grants and contributions – that is, those with a measurable performance or other barrier and a right of return – are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met and they are recognized as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When the restriction is met, the net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

TRANSACTIONS IN FOREIGN CURRENCIES

GiveDirectly conducts many of its programs through offices in foreign countries and, accordingly, transacts in the local currencies of those countries. These foreign currency transactions are translated into U.S. dollars at the appropriate exchange rates when each transaction is executed. The resulting gain or loss is reflected in the accompanying statements of activities as net foreign currency transaction gains or losses. The U.S. dollar is considered the functional and reporting currency of GiveDirectly.

CONTRIBUTED SERVICES AND GOODS

GiveDirectly records contributed services at fair value when: (a) the services create or enhance nonfinancial assets, or (b) the services would have been purchased if not provided by contribution, require specialized skills, and are provided by individuals possessing those skills. GiveDirectly had service contributions in the United States related primarily to domestic operations (e.g., advertising, website support and development). GiveDirectly reports all contributed goods at fair value as estimated by management based on donor-provided value and comparable fair value to purchase in the marketplace.

FUNCTIONAL ALLOCATION OF EXPENSES

Costs associated with providing GiveDirectly's programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities, which includes all expenses incurred during each year. The statements of functional expenses present expenses by function and natural classification. Some categories of expense are attributable to more than one activity and require allocation, applied on a consistent basis. Salaries and benefits are allocated on the basis of employee time records. Other expenses are assigned directly to specific activities as expenditures are made.

ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2 – INVENTORY

GiveDirectly provides cell phones to some recipients to facilitate their enrollment in a payments platform. Phones that have not yet been distributed to recipients are GiveDirectly's only inventory item. Inventory on hand was $218,441 and $662,857 at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Inventory is reported at net realizable value on a first-in, first-out basis.

NOTE 3 – GRANTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

The table below breaks down the grants and contributions receivable by the timeframe in which they will be received. Grants and contributions to be received in over 12 months have been discounted to reflect net present value.

GiveDirectly used the following methods and significant assumptions to estimate fair value for assets recorded at fair value:

EQUITIES AND MUTUAL FUNDS

Equities and mutual funds valued at the closing price reported in the active market in which the individual securities are traded.

U.S. AND FOREIGN GOVERNMENT AND GOVERNMENT AGENCIES OBLIGATIONS

U.S. and foreign government and government agencies obligations valued based on current yields, the securities' terms and conditions, and market activity. Information used includes market sources, credit information, observed market movement and sector news.

NOTE 6 – GRANTS PAYABLE

Grants payable represents outstanding commitments to recipients for future cash transfers. The full grant is recognized when the recipient passes through the entire enrollment process. Grants payable are drawn down as the transfers are made to recipients. Grants payable that are expected to be paid in future years are recorded at fair value based on the present value of expected future payments. Most grants payable at December 31, 2025 and 2024, are expected to be paid within 12 months. However, the Basic Income program, which is part of the Kenya programs, are structured such that recipients will receive monthly funds over the course of 2-12 years. Grants payable at December 31, 2025 and 2024, were as follows:

	2025	2024

NET ASSETS WITHOUT DONOR RESTRICTIONS

Net assets without donor restrictions consist of the following two categories:

- Board-designated funds for a specific purpose
- Undesignated funds

The Board explicitly designates unrestricted donations for particular programs and activities. The Board has also set a policy such that funds donated without any specific indication as to use, or funds given through GiveDirectly's website where the only options presented to donors are related to cash transfer programming, are spent on recipient transfers and the associated delivery costs. These funds, referred to as Pending Allocation, are treated as without donor restricted donations until the point at which the Board explicitly designates the funds to a specific program.

NOTE 7 – NET ASSETS (CONTINUED)

NOTE 8 – COMMITMENTS AND RISKS

CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

GiveDirectly's cash and cash equivalents are composed of amounts in accounts at various financial institutions. While the amount, at times, exceeds the amount guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") and, therefore, bears some risk, GiveDirectly has not experienced, nor does it anticipate, any loss of funds. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the amount in excess of the FDIC insured limit was approximately $36,800,000 and $19,790,000, respectively. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, GiveDirectly maintained approximately $13,000,000 and $4,500,000, in accounts at non-U.S. financial institutions.

FOREIGN OPERATIONS

GiveDirectly has operations in Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, Liberia, Malawi, Mozambique, the DRC, Morocco, Nigeria, Bangladesh, and the United Kingdom ("UK") for the purpose of providing direct transfers to the extremely poor. The future results of these programs could be adversely affected by a number of potential factors, such as currency devaluations or changes in the political climate.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, GiveDirectly had cash, investments and net property and equipment in these countries totaling $15,885,603 and $8,353,267, respectively, representing approximately 5% and 3% of GiveDirectly's total assets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

COMPLIANCE AUDIT

GiveDirectly has received federal and non-federal grants that are subject to review, audit and adjustment by various federal and non-federal agencies for qualified expenses charged to the grants. Such audits could lead to requests for reimbursement to the federal agencies for any expenditures or claims disallowed under the terms of the agreements. The amount of expenditures which may be disallowed by the federal and non-federal agencies cannot be determined at this time, although GiveDirectly expects such amounts, if any, to be insignificant.

NOTE 9 – AVAILABILITY AND LIQUIDITY

GiveDirectly regularly monitors liquidity required to meet its annual operating needs and other contractual commitments, while also striving to preserve the principal and return on the investment of its funds.

NOTE 9 – AVAILABILITY AND LIQUIDITY (CONTINUED)

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, GiveDirectly's financial assets available within one year of the statement of financial position date for general expenditures were as follows:

	2025	2024
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 19,314,258	$ 14,864,089
Interest and other receivable	489,073	634,602
Contributions receivable, current portion	49,610,865	20,594,793
Investments	214,292,325	194,565,337
Total Financial Assets Available Within One Year	283,706,521	230,658,821
Less:
Amounts unavailable for general expenditures within one year due to donor restriction with purpose and time restriction	(123,168,585)	(69,516,915)
Amounts unavailable for general expenditures within one year due to board designation, excluding salary reserve	(33,292,694)	(29,144,268)
Financial Assets Available to Meet General Expenditures Within One Year	$ 127,245,242	$ 131,997,638

GiveDirectly has various sources of liquidity at its disposal, including cash and cash equivalents and investments, which are available for general expenditures, liabilities and other obligations as they come due. Management is focused on sustaining the financial liquidity of GiveDirectly throughout the year. This is accomplished through monitoring and reviewing GiveDirectly's cash flow needs on a regular basis. As a result, management is aware of GiveDirectly's cash flow needs and is, therefore, able to ensure that there is cash available to meet current liquidity needs.

NOTE 10 – INCOME TAXES

GiveDirectly is exempt from the payment of income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. As such, GiveDirectly is taxed only on its net unrelated business income. No provision for income taxes is required for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, as GiveDirectly had no net unrelated business income. In addition, some of the foreign operations of GiveDirectly are subject to local income tax in the jurisdictions in which they operate.

GiveDirectly follows the authoritative guidance relating to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes included in Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 740, Income Taxes.

These provisions provide consistent guidance for the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an entity's financial statements and prescribe a threshold of "more likely than not" for recognition and derecognition of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. GiveDirectly performed an evaluation of uncertainty in income taxes for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, and determined that there were no matters that would require recognition in the financial statements or that may have any effect on its tax-exempt status. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the statute of limitations remained open with the U.S. federal jurisdiction or the various states and local jurisdictions in which GiveDirectly files tax returns. However, no examinations are currently pending or in progress. It is GiveDirectly's policy to recognize interest and/or penalties related to uncertainty in income taxes, if any, in interest or income tax expense.

NOTE 11 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Segovia Technology Co. ("Segovia") was formed by two common Board members and co-founders of GiveDirectly. Segovia builds software to manage the logistics of payments distribution in the developing world, so that governments, non-profits and others can more effectively implement cash transfers and other social protection programs.

Effective March 16, 2015, GiveDirectly purchased 921,500 shares of Segovia common stock at $0.0001 par value per share, leading to an aggregate purchase price of $92.15. GiveDirectly acquired the shares for a nominal cash contribution, as is standard practice for the distribution of initial shares of a new company. GiveDirectly transferred voting rights in these shares back to two proxyholders who are founders of Segovia, as part of an arrangement in which those founders donated economic interest in those shares to GiveDirectly but retained voting rights.

On March 26, 2019, Segovia and Crown Agents Bank ("CAB") agreed to merge, forming CTHL and spinning out a part of Segovia as a separate company, Taptap Send ("TTS") (the payment system continued to be referred to as Segovia). As part of the merger and spin off, GiveDirectly's shares in Segovia were exchanged for 921,500 shares in TTS.

Effective October 28, 2015, an entity was established in the United Kingdom ("GiveDirectly UK") for the purpose of fundraising in the United Kingdom for the prevention or relief of poverty anywhere in the world. GiveDirectly does not control or direct any of the activities of GiveDirectly UK. However, the co-founder of GiveDirectly is one of three members of the Board of Directors of GiveDirectly UK. During 2025 and 2024, GiveDirectly received $5,629,372 and $4,971,395, respectively, from GiveDirectly UK.

On December 21, 2016, GiveDirectly was registered under the Companies Act 2006 as having established a UK establishment in the United Kingdom. This is a branch of GiveDirectly and a separate entity from GiveDirectly UK, and consists of five UK employees involved primarily in fundraising and programmatic operational work. The assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses associated with the UK entity are included in these financial statements.

NOTE 12 – RECLASSIFICATIONS

Certain items in the December 31, 2024, comparative information have been reclassified to conform to the December 31, 2025 financial statement presentation. The reclassifications had no effect on the previously reported change in net assets or net assets.

NOTE 13 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

In preparing these financial statements, GiveDirectly has evaluated events and transactions, for potential recognition or disclosure, through September 14, 2026, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. There were no subsequent events identified that require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.
